Commercial Airlines

Overview

American Eagle Airlines is currently operating four daily flights out of Santa Fe to and from Dallas-Fort Worth (DFW). They are operating two of them year-round, and two are seasonal. The first seasonal flight is an early AM departure coupled with a late PM arrival. This seasonal flight operates from April until November. The second seasonal flight is a midday arrival and departure. It operates only from July to late August. The other two flights are year round, daily service. Please check with the airline for actual dates and times for all flights.

American Eagle Airlines is also operating one daily flight serving Santa Fe to and from Los Angeles (LAX). Please check with the airline for actual dates and times.

American Eagle Airlines flight schedules may be accessed from the link below. Reservations can be made by calling 1-800-433-7300. The local office can be reached at 505-424-2209 if necessary, however reservations and general flight information calls need to be made to the toll-free number.

Passengers should plan to arrive one hour and fifteen minutes prior to their scheduled departure. The airline will not hold the aircraft for late arrivals, and they close the check-in counter 30 minutes prior to departure. The boarding gate area is closed 10 minutes prior to departure. Passengers arriving to check in close to departure time risk being left behind. For more information, please contact the airline.

Great Lakes Aviation made a business decision to no longer provide service between Santa Fe and Denver. The City is currently in discussions with them and other airlines about providing renewed Denver service.

New Mexico Airlines has suspended Santa Fe service for an indefinite period.

Information current as of 3/15/2011.
